

31. Settling in to Pre-School Policy and Practice

Aims of Policy

We want children to feel safe, stimulated and happy in the setting and to feel secure and comfortable with staff. We also want parents to have confidence in both their children's well-being and their role as active partners with the setting. If there are any concerns at any time during a child's time at Seer Green Pre-School, we will discuss these with the parents. This procedure does not simply apply to new children, but throughout their time with us.

We aim to make the setting a welcoming place where children settle quickly and easily because consideration has been given to the individual needs and circumstances of children and their families.

Methods

- Before a child starts to attend the setting, we use a variety of ways to provide his/her parents with information. We have an electronic 'Starter Booklet' which is given to new joiners and is meant to be kept for reference throughout their child's time at Seer Green Pre-School. Before a child starts at the Pre-School, we will contact the child's parents to offer a visit to the setting with his/ her child. We will also ensure the parents have an opportunity to raise any questions or concerns.
- We allocate a Key Person to each child and his/her family before she/he starts to attend; the Key Person welcomes and looks after the child and his/her parents at the child's first session and during the settling-in process.
- The Key Person offers unconditional regard for the child and is non-judgemental.
- The Key Person works with the parent to plan and deliver a personalised plan for the child's well-being, care and learning.
- The Key Person acts as the key contact for the parents and has links with other carers involved with the child, such as a childminder, and co-ordinates the sharing of appropriate information about the child's development with those carers.
- A Key Person is responsible for developmental records and for sharing information on a regular basis with the child's parents to keep those records up to date, reflecting the full picture of the child in our setting and at home.
- The Key Person encourages positive relationships between children in his/her key group, spending time with them as a group regularly.
- We operate Key Person partnerships so the child and the parents have a key contact where the Key Person works part time.
- We promote the role of the Key Person as the child's primary carer in the Pre-School and as the basis for establishing relationships with other staff and children.
- We use pre-start visits and the first session at which a child attends to explain and complete with his/her parents the child's registration records. The parents are welcome to stay for the whole of the first session and indeed to come into the room to help their child to settle for as long as is deemed appropriate.
- When a child starts to attend, we explain the process of settling-in with his/her parents and jointly decide on the best way to help the child to settle into the setting.

- Younger children will take longer to settle in, as will children who have not previously spent time away from home. Children who have had a period of absence may also need their parent to be on hand to re-settle them.
- We judge a child to be settled when they have formed a relationship with their Key Person; for example the child looks for the Key Person when he/she arrives, goes to them for comfort, and seems pleased to be with them. The child is also familiar with where things are and is pleased to see other children and participate in activities.
- When parents leave, we ask them to say goodbye to their child and explain that they will be coming back, and when.
- We recognise that some children will settle more readily than others but that some children who appear to settle rapidly are not ready to be left, so we expect that the parent will remain flexible about the need to stay, until their child can stay happily without them.
- We do not believe that leaving a child to cry will help them to settle any quicker. We believe that a child's distress will prevent them from learning and gaining the best from the setting. The happiness and wellbeing of a child is the most important factor.
- We reserve the right not to accept a child into the setting without a parent or carer if the child finds it distressing to be left. This is especially the case with very young children.

As with all the policies for Seer Green Pre-School, the Operational Plan should be referred to for the specific details of day to day operations of the Pre-School. In addition, any issues which arise in the course of a child's time with the Pre-School and that are related to a child's health and wellbeing, parent's or staff's concern, or the overall care and safety of our children, staff, parents and equipment will be dealt with in a professional and confidential manner in order to arrive at an appropriate outcome.
